One New Canadian Champion Crowned for 2010

Brantford, ON January 10, 2011—A Canadian Champion is awarded to a Holstein cow (75% pure or higher) that surpasses the previous all-time highest performance for milk, fat, protein, or total BCA in its age-at-calving category. If more than one animal in a given year exceeds the previous highest level, only the top individual will be recognized as the new Canadian Champion.

If you wish to view the current list of the all-time highest production Canadian Champion cows, visit Holstein Canada's website under Awards & Shows, Cow Award Lists and, Award Search.

Congratulations to the breeder and owner of the new Canadian Champion for 2010!
